Christmas gifts must have been very satisfying to the general Edmonton public this year because local store officials don't look for as many exchanges as they have had in the past.

Verdict Left Open In B.C. Air Crash

PENTICTON, B.C., Dec. 28.—(CP)—Investigation into the cause of the Okanagan mountain plane crash pressed on today after a coroner's jury announced they could not supply the answer.

Jurors returned an open verdict yesterday after hearing testimony by survivors, the only living crew member, and airline officials who have been at the scene of the wreck.

The two men who would likely know are dead.

The Calgary-bound Canadian Pacific Pacific Airlines DC-3 took their lives when it went down Friday 21 miles north of Okanagan Valley city. Survivors Louis Franco of Vancouver and the 16 passengers survived and failed to safety from the remote crash scene.

ONLY DECISION

The jury decided only that pilot Quinton Moore and co-pilot Les Duncanson, both of Vancouver, died of injuries received when the aircraft crashed the top of the plane and came down high on the side of Mount Okanagan.

Testimony was that the plane was not overloaded and that the wreckage conditions were suitable for flying.

Police Townley of West Vancouver, CPA general manager, testified the plane had received regular checks. The plane carried 25,722 pounds at the take-off, while the maximum gross weight was 25,200.

He said both pilots were "competent in every way" and familiar with the route.

Asian Nations Ask Negotiations

ago, pledging Red China's political conference in return for peace in Korea.

That proposal was accompanied by a 15-power (the 13th was the Philippines) resolution calling for negotiations on a ceasefire in Korea. Consideration of the resolution for political talks was shifted to await progress on the case-fire move.

Since Peking's rejection of the ceasefire proposal, the 15 countries—Afghanistan, Burma, Egypt, India, Iran, Iraq, Indonesia, Lebanon, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen—are pressing for a day at their own proposal.

BLACKMAIL TO U.S.

The U.S. so far has pursued a hostile attitude toward the proposed political conference. The American view any move linking a possible end to the Korean fighting with concessions to the Chinese Reds as yielding to blackmail.

The Asian sponsors of the political conference resolution, however, were expected to meet late today to discuss ways and means of bringing about such talks.

Blast Case Adjourned

An eight-day adjournment to Jan. 11 was granted yesterday in a preliminary hearing of criminal negligence charges against Leduc Utilities Limited and W. J. Gray, the company's chief engineer.

They were charged following an inquiry into the Leduc hotel gas explosion which claimed 10 lives Nov. 31. The company was installing natural gas installations in the town, and evidence at the inquest said the gas was turned on before the individual services were completed.

The preliminary hearing was originally set for Jan. 3. The adjournment was allowed so transcripts of evidence could be completed.

Notes Rapping Russia Sent By France, Britain

PARIS, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Britain and France have completed drafts of notes to Russia, accusing the Soviet Union of creating present tensions, reliable information said tonight.

The notes, replying to messages the two countries received from Russia Dec. 16, have been drafted after conferences between Paris and London. They are to be sent to Moscow separately.

Russia accused France of violating the 1947 French-Soviet treaty by encouraging German rearmament. A similar accusation was made to Britain.

Evacuation Details Censorship Lifted

Enemy Knew Main Facts Admits UN Headquarters

By Stan Swinton

TOKYO, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Hitherto-unpublishable details on sea evacuation of the 105,000-man United States 10th Corps from Hungnam were disclosed today.

Correspondents who covered the evacuation were forbidden to give tactical particulars of the beachhead battle. It would tip off the enemy on how the army might fight in a similar future situation, said public information officers, who doubled as censors.

Apparently, security considerations have been erased by the inter-service scramble for credits for the Hungnam operation, however Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond's headquarters wanted out a special release today to tell the world yesterday's secrets.

Among other things, he said, the enemy knew the when and where of the evacuation, since "there was only one way to go out through the port of Hungnam."

Only Sunday afternoon, correspondents on the beachhead had been forbidden to write either about the evacuation or Hungnam port activities. The ban held after the story was published in detail from Tokyo Bulletin that the final withdrawal had taken place Saturday still being held Sunday when the news was broken in Washington.

NOT SURPRISED

That the enemy knew about all the time came as no surprise to correspondents. But the complete turnaround in the army's official position caused raised eyebrows.

There were three phases of the withdrawal. Almond's headquarters entered phase One Dec. 15, when the 1st Marine Division completed loading the ships. At that time, the defensive are extended roughly 100 yards from the beach.

Hungnam, location of the command post, was evacuated. Yongpung was vacated by the 3rd Marine Air Wing Dec. 15 also, but was still included in the defense perimeter because it was needed to carry out supplies and troops.

The South Korean 3rd Division sailed south directly from Songjin. The rest of the Republican wrecked 131 enemy-occupied bulwarks, five vehicles, seven cars and a locomotive.

An 8th Army spokesman in Seoul reported Chinese troops for the first time apparently were crossing the 38th parallel into South Korea in force northwest of Seoul.

"The Chinese have been tentatively identified in force two miles south of Kaesong, putting them four miles south of the parallel and 23 miles northwest of Seoul," the 8th Army briefing officer said.

PATROL'S BATTLE

United Nations patrols engaged a Korean enemy patrol east of Kaesong and reported two enemy regiments—some 1,000 men—in nearby Chosun, he said. Thus Kaesong and Chosun apparently are the first South Korean towns to fall to the Chinese Reds.

He said the Chinese 26th army was continuing to mass its forces just north of the parallel northwest of Kaesong and the 38th Chinese army with integrated North Korean units was speeding its buildup near Yonchon, 25 miles north of Seoul and six miles north of the border.

The 38th and 39th are two of the six armies in the People's Republic of China. The 4th field army, which MacArthur's headquarters said is in a position to strike the 8th army defensive area around Seoul in full strength any time after Jan. 1.

The massive 19th-division army "could launch a co-ordinated attack any time between Jan. 1 and 15," a headquarters communique said.

OTHER STRENGTH

"This potential could be enhanced by the commitment of the Chinese Communist Air Force in support of the attack and reinforcement from the Hungnam area," he said.

At Hungnam on the northeast coast is the Chinese 3rd Field Army of 100,000 men, which foraging is the Hungnam-Hamhung beachhead.

"The character of a major military effort by the Chinese Communist government, although initially masked, under the treacherous rule of a 'jointer' participation" is only too apparent in the deployment of all or elements out of the 3rd and 4th Field Armies, which communique said.

SUCH ARDOR DOESN'T PAY

ATLANTA, Dec. 28.—(UP)—A damage suit in Superior Court asked $30,000 for Miss Miriam Clinkscale, 23, today on grounds that her automobile-crash injuries were due to Eugene Snyder's failure to keep his eye on the road.

Miss Clinkscale said Snyder insisted on putting his arm around her, and hit a utility pole.

Execution Stay Allowed at 'Peg'

WINNIPEG, Dec. 28.—(CP)—A two-month postponement of the hanging of Henry Malank, slayer of a Winnipeg detective, was announced today to allow time for an appeal.

Chief Justice E. A. McPherson granted a stay of execution until March 9. The hanging had been scheduled for Jan. 17 at Heading Bay jail.

Malank, 46-year-old plumber, was sentenced Oct. 19 after an assizes jury convicted him of murder in the July 16 slaying of Detective James E. Sims.

Greater Faith Hath No Wife

SALT LAKE CITY.—(UP)—No one can tell Axel Lindholm of Scotland, Utah, that a woman can't be patient.

Lindholm parked his car in downtown Salt Lake City and his wife said she'd wait while he got a snack.

"I know he'd come back," she said.

After an all-night search he asked police to help. They soon located the car and Mrs. Lindholm, who was sitting patiently in the spot where her husband had left her 15 hours before.

"I know he'd come back," she said.

Romanian Said Shot at Border

BERGRADE, Dec. 28.—(AP)—The official Bergrade radio said a Romanian officer was shot to death yesterday for trespassing on Yugoslav territory and 150 Romanian soldiers fired "many shots" across the border in an attempt to recover the officer's body.

Yugoslav border guards did not reply to the fire, the radio said. There was no explanation why the Romanian crossed the border near the village of Naduvce.

Fire Menaces East Town

MAGOO, Que., Dec. 28.—(CP)—Hundreds of townfolk of this Eastern Township centre early today joined a Roman Catholic priest in praying that their homes might be spared as a raging inferno destroyed three buildings and threatened to reach the proportion of the disastrous Chabano and Rimouski fires last summer.

As the priest, Rev. John Polzura of the St. Jean Baptiste church, led the spectators in prayer over a loud speaker, the fire raged through residential and business blocks, causing an estimated $250,000 damage and leaving 50 persons homeless.

The blue trucks out about 5 p.m. last night and within minutes devoured an unaccountable inferno that threatened to wipe out this town of 5,000 residents.

Retiring NAR Chief Gets Scroll

Complimentary scroll was presented to J. M. MacArthur, retiring general manager of Northern Alberta Railways, by Edmonton Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Presentation was made by O. C. McIntyre, chamber president, in Mr. MacArthur's office.

In making the presentation, Mr. McIntyre stated that it was being made because of Mr. MacArthur's outstanding contributions as a citizen, a railroader and a friend to Edmonton and the north.

Skidmarks in the snow beside Alberta highways tell a tale of woe—and occasionally tragedy—for motorists.

In the 25 miles on the Calgary Trail from Edmonton to Leduc, the trucks show no less than 125 cars have skidded off the highway into the deep ditch since fresh snow fell last weekend.

In some cases, cars were pulled and pushed as far as half a mile along the ditch before they could be hooked back to the road.

And there's another mute little tale told in the snow at the scene of many of the accidents—beer bottles lying around give a good indication of how the cars got into the ditch.

Labrador People See First Films

MAIN, Labrador—(CP)—Here on the bleak coast of northern Labrador there are people, both Eskimo and white, who know nothing of moving pictures until a few weeks ago. Now they are seeing movies once a week, through the efforts of a missionary, Rev. F. W. Peacock, and the National Film Board.

To the simple folk of Labrador, only now becoming touched by civilization, the sound projector is something of a miracle.

It came about when Rev. Mr. Peacock saw an article in the St. John's Evening Telegram dealing with activities of the Canadian Film Board. He saw that one of the functions of the board is to supply movie equipment to isolated communities.

Rev. Mr. Peacock said "what place could be more isolated than Main, Labrador, where during the winter the mailman comes three times only through the long, dark period between November and July."

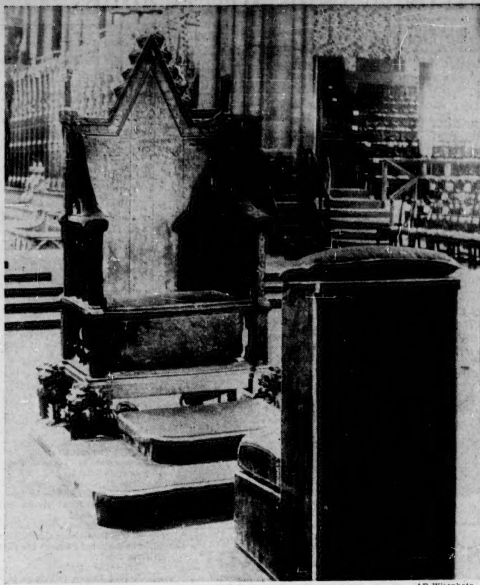

So he wrote to the board asking for a sound projector, and another missionary, Rev. F. C. P. Gribb, visited the board office and was instructed in its operation. So the movies came to Main.

The projector means that the Eskimos will get a knowledge of the outside world which was impossible for them before. For a primitive people the picture on the screen is a more effective educational medium than the written word.

But apart from that, the entertainment value is tremendous. The Labradorian's life is a lonely one with few pleasures and the movies, says Mr. Peacock, "are new and wonderful."

STONE OF SCONE, Scotland's priceless stone of destiny, was stolen from Westminster Abbey in London, Christmas Day. The 336-pound stone was used in ancient times during coronation of Scottish kings at Scone. Since time of Edward I it has played part in coronation of British kings. Coronation throne in the Abbey was damaged when thieves dragged heavy sandstone away.

'Heavy Bundle' Dumped Into River May Be Stone of Scone

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Rural police 40 miles from London today said they believe the venerable Stone of Scone, stolen from Westminster Abbey, was unceremoniously dumped into the river Crouch under cover of night.

A spokesman at Essex police headquarters in Chelmsford reported a group of persons was seen dumping a "heavy bundle" into the river from a small boat.

Foot patrolmen and radio car quickly provided five miles of river bank, while other police looked for the hallowed block of yellow sandstone, heavy in weight and tradition, in small boats along the stream.

They found no trace of the relic on which British kings have sat for centuries since Edward I looted the slab from Scotland in 1296.

RANKLES SCOTS This ancient grievance still rages in the breasts of fiery Scottish nationalists, who think the stone should be restored to Scotland.

Extremists among their number are generally suspected with carrying off the stone during the early hours Christmas morning from the coronation chair in the depths of the hallowed Abbey.

LONDON police today had another lead, a five-ton stolen truck they recovered in suburban Kensington. The truck was snatched from a factory yard in the Scottish city of Glasgow. If detectives confirm their suspicion that the vehicle was used to haul away the stone, it would strengthen the belief that the robbery was the work of Scottish nationalist extremists.

MANY UPSET Many Englishmen, stolidly untroubled by the eccentricities of British weather and the menace of international crises, were appalled over the shenanigans in the Abbey.

There were wisecracks galore, too—mostly from sections of the British press, which declined to be unduly perturbed over the deed whose cartoonists were having a field day.

But the dean of Westminster, Very Rev. Dr. Alan Campbell Dunlop, a Scotsman—would say that if necessary "I will go to the ends of the earth" to recover the stone.

Cassandra, the Daily Mirror columnist, was only mildly sympathetic.

The dean, he wrote, "in a first show of public grip remarked it was 'the most devastating thing which could have happened (to) poor lads was fighting the cause of liberty.'"

And now your letter of December 31 comes to me that some where in that distant land he has found his final resting place. Well, let it be, and if used he there are six other lives from the father of him, and the mother of him, to the youngest of his brothers, who will willingly give what he and countless others before him have given, and what countless others will give in the preservation of human rights and dignity.

The death of Dr. James Shes was reported in the casualty list released Dec. 31 following notification of death of him.

Six Brothers of Hero Ready to Fill Breach

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP)—The father of a St. Catharines, Ont., boy in the United States army who was killed while fighting in Korea has offered the lives of the six other members of his family, if necessary, to preserve what his oldest son died for.

James Shes of St. Catharines, made this offer in a letter to the U.S. army adjutant-general, Major-General Edward F. Wilson.

Shes wrote that his son James fought with the U.S. 9th Infantry regiment of the 2nd Division in Korea and was a lieutenant in the 1st Battalion, 3rd Brigade, 9th Infantry, under George Washington. Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry because he "along with many one

Local Man Given 6-Month Sentence

Fernand Leduc Jailed, Stole $4,000 In Goods From Employer

One man has been sentenced and another charged in connection with a $4,000 traffic in stolen goods here over the past year.

Fernand Leduc, 1136-102 avenue, was sentenced to two six-month prison terms, running concurrently, this morning in police court on charges of stealing from his employer and retaining stolen property.

The thefts from Sun Specialty Company amounted to approximately $4,000 between Jan. 1 and Dec. 14 last. Leduc stole property from Pilkington Glass Works totalled $27.

Former Pilkington employee Wilfred Fidler appears this afternoon in court charged with stealing from the glass company and retaining property stolen from Sun Specialty Company.

EMPLOYED AS SHIPPER Leduc was employed as a shipper by Sun Specialty, which manufactures novelties and carnival equipment.

His technique according to Det. Harry Nelson was simply to "ship" the stolen goods to his home in a compact truck.

Detectives recovered $3,500.95 worth of Sun Specialty goods in his home when they arrested him Dec. 14.

Another $800 worth had been sold at about $250 worth was given away.

GLASS PRODUCTS The $217 worth of glass products was also recovered in a raid today but his lawyer A. M. Deane pleaded for leniency on the ground that restitution had been made in full and that it was the strain of supporting a sick wife and two infant children that caused Leduc to steal.

Prosecutor Guy Heaumont suggested a remand in order that Leduc could be a chance to prove he had reformed.

ON ONE CHARGE But Magistrate S. G. Main imposed immediate six-month sentences on each charge—theft and retaining stolen property.

He warned accused that his crime made him liable to 14 years imprisonment on the charge of stealing from his employer but said he would be lenient in view of the facts brought by Mr. Deane.

"He may learn things he shouldn't while he is in jail but he hasn't been in jail yet and he already knows how to steal," observed the magistrate.

Dry Ice Used In Main Repair

BELLE FOURCHIE, S.D.—(UPI)—Dry ice prevented a drought here. A dragline broke an unsump water main.

There was no valve to the main near the break and it appeared probable that the water would have to be turned off over a large section of the city.

Meade Odle went to a nearby quarry, scooped up 20 pounds of dry ice and packed it around the pipe. Within 10 minutes the water was frozen and workmen started repairs.

The broadcast claimed the new type of rice "yields as rich a harvest as the watered varieties."

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—(CP)—Two snowy owls have been reported sighted north of Saskatoon. A naturalist said it is not unusual for these birds to migrate as far south as the United States in winter.

Not Doing a Job

The city's industrial development board is not doing a job, says the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce takes a proper stand when it refuses to have anything to do with that board until it begins to function.

As long as a year ago, the lethargy of this body was noted and protested by city aldermen, Aldermen Bowcott, Hawrath and Lawson were appointed to membership for 1950 and, before they would accept the appointment, they demanded that the board come to life.

Upon receiving assurance that the board would function, they consented to act.

But while the board has a secretary, C. W. Curtis, the city's industrial commissioner, it has no chairman. It has held no meetings. It has been a total loss.

No wonder the Chamber of Commerce refuses any longer to participate in the game of make-believe with a board that could be made of genuine use to the city.

The inactivity of the industrial development board is a tremendously exciting juvenile viewpoint on the creation of new industries and new payroll.

More than two years ago, this newspaper pointed out and has continued to point out that Edmonton will never achieve the industrial development commensurate with the opportunities offered by her resources unless somebody in authority goes out, in a big, continuous and aggressive way, to sell Edmonton to industrial capital.

Careful and exhaustive surveys have been made of the raw materials available

In this area. An extensive study has been made of labor, transportation facilities, potential markets, sources and cost of power and all the other factors that must be taken into account when industries contemplate establishing in a new district.

Several very pretty and informative booklets have been prepared along these lines.

But what does the city do with them?

What does the city do with all this information that should be of use and interest to industrial money all over North America and in Britain?

Well, the booklets go to citizens who are already sold on Edmonton and who peruse them with pride and then throw them in the waste basket.

Others, it is true, go out to prominent industrialists throughout the continent.

But there is not the slightest attempt to follow them up. It is like trying to win a war with a single lucky shot.

If Edmonton wants new industries here, as the creation of the industrial development board would appear to indicate, Edmonton should have first class industrial salesmen right on the heels of industrial capital until they get action.

As it is, all we have is an industrial information bureau where people with a burning curiosity about Edmonton can apply for the facts and figures.

This is not salesmanship. It is not even good sense.

And the Chamber of Commerce is thoroughly justified in turning up its nose at such a milk-and-water, ineffective notion of promoting industrial development.

Disappearance of a Famous Stone

News stories from London say that the English people are more upset about the theft of the historic Stone of Scone from Westminster Abbey than they are about the menace of another war.

The Stone of Scone is a tremendously valuable relic from the standpoint of the antiquarian.

Legend says that it was the rock upon which Jacob rested his head when he had his famous dream about angels descending from heaven. The credibility of that report was blasted out of the sky when someone pointed out that the sandstone of which the Stone is composed was native to Scotland and not to Asia Minor.

The other tales about it are equally absurd. Pharaoh's daughter is said to have carried it to Ireland from whence it was taken by King Kenneth II of Scotland.

Edward I of England then pinched it from Scots Castle and English kings have been crowned on it ever since.

Whether it is a magic talisman from Bible lands or only a piece of Scottish rock, it is still heavily enmeshed with history.

If it has been taken by Scottish Nationalists, its recovery for Scotland will be a bit of poetic justice because the English prospered in the 14th century to return the relic to the Scottish crown.

What will amuse Americans more than anything else is how any thief or thieves could lug a 400-pound piece of Stone from the Coronation Chair in the Abbey without being seen.

They can understand how enterprising tourists, in the dusky calm of the Abbey, could get away with carrying their idiotic names on the Coronation Chair.

But surely there are enough vergers and churchwardens around the Coronation Chair to prevent an outrage which, actually, is more of a desecration than an intrinsic loss.

Europeans Should Show More Zeal

Few Canadians will have sympathy with the extreme view of former U.S. President Hoover who demands a withdrawal of American forces from all non-American soil. But many Canadians will have the greatest sympathy with the more rational Republican opinion that the countries of continental Europe should take a more realistic view of their own defence.

One of the causes leading to the military collapse of the Roman Empire was that outlying subject peoples leaned so heavily on Rome for their defence that they lost the will and the ability to protect themselves.

There is such a thing as continental Europe leaning so heavily on America that the American people will lose interest in this in the post-Christmas and New Year depression.

It is true, as Dean Acheson says, that the defence of Europe is the defence of North America.

But it is galling to Americans, as it is galling to Canadians, to pay heavy taxes to send money for arms to Europe when some of the continental Europeans are not stirring a finger to help themselves.

For instance, the twelve to fourteen million people of Canada have sent three hundred millions of dollars to Europe for Europe's defence and it is now proposed to send more. It would be nice to have the assurance that the continental Europeans are not stirring a finger to help themselves.

Real resolutions tradition demands they should make.

Some of these are fretful because they can find no sine to give up. Many more are distressed because they love their sins too dearly to abandon them.

It goes too quickly. It is over too soon.

The terrible wink out and one is left with certain presents for which may God forgive the donors, one bedroom slippers that pinch your toes and the gaudiest of stockings.

Of all this shabby residue, I think the stripped cadaver of a car is the most repulsive and the most conducive to the melancholy that haunts this residue.

But three days ago, this graying network of bones came plump and plump from one car.

There arose from it a delicately browned contraption, crisp and shiny, an aroma that would cause the gods on high Olympus to leave their thrones into the Olympian garages.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Bulletin—Every one is concerned, mostly over the trend in the cost of living and rising wages.

Does anyone in this country, even the government, think of the poor laborers on the farms? Do the people realize that these are some of the most important workers in the land? If they are the hardest worked, lowest paid and least appreciated workers.

The price of farm produce is rising steadily year after year. But the wages haven't changed any in the past six or seven years.

It is time something is done about this situation. What can we do?

FARM HAND.

Deteriorating Values

Editor, Bulletin—At 70 years a large percentage of us are doing the best we can to make good progress in that direction. Therefore it seems that the average man who does 20 percent income deduction for between 20 or 30 years stands more or less in the meantime than gaining any very distinct advantage in the long run.

Then one also has to consider that in reviewing the past a $40 per month income in 20 or 30 years may not be enough to cover cigarette money, let alone the cost of living.

If inflation is with us to stay, and all economic factors point in that direction, the man who invested his two-percent in real values as a hedge against inflation, is going to find himself in a very bad way when government securities, which were well ahead in the long pull, and if deflated, or if he saved his money, would at least leave something for the ones left behind.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Carbon Monoxide Peril Greater During Winter

Every newspaper reader of some man or woman who was found dead in his or her home, in a garage, the corner usually finds the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide is produced by running the engine of a car in a place without fresh air.

The exhaust of a car, for example, produces carbon monoxide.

When breathed in, this odorless gas combines with a portion of the blood in the body, which normally carries oxygen to the tissues.

If carbon monoxide replaces the oxygen in the hemoglobin, the tissues are starved for life-giving oxygen. It quickly causes unconsciousness and death soon after.

Carbon monoxide poisoning is always rapid in winter than in summer. Heat is so cold that people are likely to be shut up tight and fresh air does not come in as it does in the summer.

This means that a furnace, heater, or running the motor of a automobile in a closed garage will produce carbon monoxide.

This is the best promptly diluted with oxygen.

Word To The Wise

The use of defective stoves or furnaces and running the motor of automobiles, about furnaces, or in garages. Actually such persons do not seem to be harmed in any way.

It still alive a person who has been exposed to carbon monoxide should be removed from the bad air at once. Artificial respiration and giving oxygen as soon as possible are desirable. Fire department crews, police and fire companies are usually trained to give first aid in cases of carbon monoxide poisoning.

'Rag' Shipments Said To Contain Uniforms

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

An international search to find the ultimate destination of 200 bales of American army uniforms which were intercepted by ships of the country of the United States, was pressed by four U.S. agencies.

The uniforms were being sent by the United States Marine Corps, 1947 E. Kirby Ave., Detroit, Mich., to an untraveled company in Holland and were marked for transshipment to North Africa.

The final destination of the uniforms is the mystery which FBI, U.S. customs agents, department of commerce export officials and U.S. Army intelligence officers are now trying to solve.

A department of commerce spokesman said that the investigation, which began more than a month ago, has turned up the fact that several previous large shipments of "rags" have been made from the same firm in Detroit to Holland and for transshipment to North Africa.

Firm Didn't Violate Law

He also states that the investigation has revealed absolutely no violation of any law or regulation on the part of the Detroit firm in the transactions.

It says that the uniforms were purchased "legitimately from various places all over the country," and that the firm was not aware of the fact that the uniforms were being sent to North Africa.

No export license is required for either rag or new clothing. The shipment was labeled "rag" and on the basis of the technicality of whether or not the uniforms were "rag" the shipment was held up.

The fact that the bales contained American army uniforms was discovered through accident by a customs inspector in Detroit last month. Just before they were to be loaded aboard a ship bound for Holland, the matter became known and was referred to the FBI in Washington ever since.

Discovery

By the chance

one of the bales noticed a hole in one of the bales, and investigating, found the uniforms inside.

The bales were then found to be loaded aboard a ship bound for Holland, the matter became known and was referred to the FBI in Washington ever since.

The Detroit firm did not protest when customs held up the shipment. The firm was granted to rebale the rags which covered the uniforms for shipment to Holland. A spokesman for the company says that covering the uniforms with rags was the way to ship the uniforms.

Total weight of the 200 bales was 100,000 pounds.

Officials at the Pentagon are considerably amused at the ramifications of the whole thing. They point out that Chinese Communist soldiers in Korea have been attacking UN troops dressed in U.S. uniforms. And they raise the question of how much more army surplus equipment has gotten out of the country and posed in the hands of the enemy through either legal channels in the U.S.

Lloydminster Citizens Have Busy Christmas

LLOYDMINSTER, Dec. 28.—Christmas in Lloydminster was truly a holiday season, with entertainment commencing about 10 days before the 25th, when Eastern Star held their annual Christmas carol festival in Grace United church.

Lloydminster was decorated with colored lights across the streets and at main street intersections huge Christmas trees were erected. Saturday afternoon, the Elks were hosts to more than 1,000 children of the district at their annual free show. Previous to the first showing, Santa made his rounds of the town, collecting a number of happy youngsters. Each kiddie was treated to a bag of candy.

In the evening a hockey game was played in the Arena between the Edmonton Spartans, Pipelines and the local hockey. The Edmonton club won the exhibition game 12 to 5.

BAD START

Getting away to a bad start the locals saw the visitors run home five goals in the first period. The Edmonton club showed much better finish in front of the goal and were better opportunists. In the second period the Pipelines outscored the Huskies 5-4 and in the final frame both clubs garnered three goals each.

The few penalties handed out to the Edmonton boys were of the accidental nature. Grant Kling, Huskie defence player, suffered a broken collarbone from a body check in the centre of the ice. He will be out of the game for about six weeks.

All services in the local churches Sunday were well attended and featured the traditional Christmas carols and hymns.

Christmas was the day children had been patiently waiting. Santa had very little trouble in finding the homes of the youngsters, or getting down the smoking gas flues.

The holiday season was marked by a few accidents, mostly caused by the slippery condition of the roads. As a result of these accidents, four persons are hospitalized, but their condition is not serious.

In the holiday hockey game played at Lloydminster Arena on Tuesday afternoon, Lloydminster Huskies had it all over North Battleford Beavers, taking the one goal game 15-0 before a large local crowd of fans.

The occasion was marked by a family dinner at which their children, Sam H. Price of Didsbury, Cecil Y. Price and Mrs. George Keaton of Veteran were present.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of Cecil Price, where 80 guests called to extend their good wishes.

The couple received many useful gifts, among which were a china cabinet, an electric clock, an end table, a Trilight lamp and a pump of money.

Announcement of their opposition was made following a report of the approval of Grande Prairie municipality and divisional school board to the County Act. The system will take effect here Jan. 1.

Teachers demanded the rate-payers have their district decide what type of education they want for their district and objected to the lack of democratic procedure in passing the resolution to ask for the system.

$1,175 in Scholarships Given At Vermilion Xmas Meeting

VERMILION, Dec. 28.—Scholarships totalling $1,175 were presented to first year students at Vermilion School of Agriculture last week at the annual Christmas dinner.

Awarded to students who achieved distinction in the various phases of their first year work at the school, the scholarships were presented by representatives sponsoring the 16 prizes.

Top award was the $100 Legion General Proficiency Scholarship presented to Gerald Ambrose of Lake City by S. C. Heckbert, president of the Legion, Alberta Command.

James Barr of Vermilion and Ruby Ray of Red Deer city council last week to a delegation from the war memorial board to bolster the city's memorial fund.

The delegation, made up of E. A. Johnson, Mel Cunningham and Dr. L. McCollough, also requested the city to guarantee the borrowing to a maximum of $50,000. Council decided to leave the matter for the 1951 council to decide whether or not to back the loan.

Council also agreed, at the same meeting, to donate $100 to Calgary's flood fund. Hourly parking regulations will be enforced by RCMP council decided. The RCMP has been notified through the police committee.

ST. PAUL WATER WORKS NEARING COMPLETION

ST. PAUL, Dec. 28.—Completion of the water line project here is nearing completion and is expected to be finished in the early part of 1951.

Work is hampering work and men have been called in necessary to begin shoveling the ground as usual a day and a half before digging. Work is underway on the property of L. Duchesneau.

The reservoir will not be completed this winter because of the severe cold and water will be pumped directly from the lake into the reservoir.

Power lines have been completed by Canadian Utilities Limited and power is being used at the lake-head.

It will be necessary to test all pipes before water will be turned on.

Andrew Pupils Offer Program

ANDREW, Dec. 28.—Approximately 190 children of Andrew and district packed the Silver Glo Hall, last week where an interesting Christmas program prepared by children and teachers of Andrew school and a number of rural schools was staged.

At the conclusion of the program Santa Claus presented each girl and boy with a bag of treats consisting of candies, nuts and oranges. This was made possible by the contributions of Andrew business men, teachers, farmers and members of the Lions Club.

M. Krawanick acted as master of ceremonies.

Money Stolen At Innisfree

U.S. Cold Wave Breaks Records

Atlantic Coast Target, As Many Die; Industries Shutting Down

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—A record-breaking cold wave swept toward the Atlantic coast today, causing many deaths and forcing some industries to curtail production for lack of fuel.

The blast of frigid air was blamed for 21 deaths in the last two days. Many deaths resulted from heart attacks induced by victims who over-exerted themselves in the cold and snow.

The lowest temperatures recorded were in Ohio and Pennsylvania where the mercury dropped to 10 and 11 below zero in the pre-dawn hours.

The cold pushed far into Dixie and threatened to spread a sheet of ice over much of Georgia and the Carolinas. Texas also was threatened by glaciers today.

BETTER IN MIDWEST

Some relief was in sight, however, for the Midwest, where many temperature records were broken yesterday.

Lone Rock, Wis., the coldest spot in the nation yesterday with 36 below zero, reported three above early today. Chicago, where a record 46 below was recorded yesterday, had six above readings shortly before dawn.

The temperature dropped to six below at Columbus, O., this morning. In Kansas, where a record rise to 20 above by this afternoon.

330 Deaths Seen Over New Year's From U.S. Traffic

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(AP)—The three-day New Year's holiday week-end will take 330 lives in traffic crashes in the United States, the National Safety Council estimated today.

The forecast, covering immediate deaths occurring between 8 a.m. Friday and midnight Monday, came on the heels of one of the bloodiest Christmas holidays in U.S. history when 545 motorists or pedestrians lost their lives.

Albertan Buys $470 TV Set

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Somebody bought a television set in Alberta this year—and paid $470 for it. This was the sole TV purchase for that province in the first nine months of the year.

In Newfoundland, the Maritimes, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, the bureau of statistics reported today that a TV set was purchased in the end of September.

However, eager TV viewers in Ontario bought 1,428 sets at a cost of $5,982,356. Probably the cost, Ontario residents are close to United States television stations has something to do with the step up in interest.

In Newfoundland, the Maritimes, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, the bureau of statistics reported today that a TV set was purchased in the end of September.

Defence Dept. Reports 76,546 Men In Army

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—(CP)—The Canadian Army has 76,546 men in its active and reserve units, a boost of 25 per cent over 1940, and looks forward to continued growth next year. The bulk of the 1950 increase arose from formation of the special force.

The over-all total includes some 20,000 men in the regular force, 10,000 in the special force and about 46,000 in the reserve.

An official year-end review today said the present total is 15-500 higher than in 1949, and quoted Defence Minister Claxton as hailing this growth as an "outstanding" sign of the "manner in which the army has grown and come of age since being reorganized as a peacetime formation four years ago."

The big event of the year, and the one which provided the big manpower boost, was the formation of the special force brigade group for service in Korea or elsewhere. One of its battalions has been sent to Korea, the others are training at Fort Lewis, Wash.

In addition to the 10,400 men it included within the regular army, the brigade group has 2,000 men and the reserves another 2,000 during the year.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS

The review picked these as other highlights of a year which saw Korea spark a general defence expansion:

1. Placing of the whole regular army on active service or a war footing so its manpower could be used wherever at any time.

2. Exercise Sweetheart, which took 1,000 Canadian and American troops into the Arctic and taught them to respect—but not fear—the signs.

3. Various experiments which included one to build roads with snow, an experiment which "abused" great promise and probably will be continued; testing of lightweight, prefabricated arctic barracks; new methods of northern insect control; design and testing of Arctic clothing, food and equipment.

U.S. Said Ahead Of Russia In Atom Research

CALAIS, Me., Dec. 28.—(AP)—Sunkist pike, United States atomic energy commissioner, said yesterday that new atomic weapon developments by the U.S. in the next few years will keep Russia from "being too aggressive."

Pike said the U.S. is "definitely ahead of Russia in development of atomic weapons."

He told Calais Rotarians, however, that there is no way of telling exactly how far Russia has gone.

Telephone Survey Decision Awaits Commission Report

Kingston College Man, Ex-Gunnery Instructor Dies

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 28.—(CP)—Maj. Herbert Pembroke Lafferty, 60, retired permanent force officer and one-time top gunnery instructor or in the Canadian Army, died yesterday.

A son of the late Dr. James Lafferty, he was born in Calgary and attended Royal Military College here. On graduation in 1910, he was commissioned to the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery with which he served in France and Belgium during the First World War.

After the war, he served as a gunnery instructor at the Royal School of Artillery here.

'Miracle Drug' Reports Rapped

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(Reuters)—Sir Alexander Fleming, joint discoverer of penicillin, said today that he does not suppose there will ever be "any one drug to kill all the microbes inside the body without killing the body as well."

Deploping newspaper reports of "miracle drugs," which give people the impression that a wonder drug had been discovered for all microbes, Fleming told a lecture audience: "That is quite wrong. We have no such thing."

Most babies are long-sighted at birth but as the eyes develop the vision tends to become normal.

Heavy Program Facing Parliament Session

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—(BUP)—The heaviest legislative program presented to the Commons and Senate in recent years will be laid before the fourth session of Canada's 21st parliament when it meets late in January.

There were indications today that the nation's lawmakers would sit for at least five months handling a mammoth schedule ranging from vastly increased defence expenditures and taxes to higher radio licences and better treatment of Indians.

The opening date of the session, probably Jan. 18 or 25, was expected to be announced by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent after a cabinet meeting today.

The extraordinary cabinet session was called partly to provide the United Nations' appeal for a cease-fire in Korea, and to discuss plans for raising the armed forces' manpower ceiling by 30,000 men.

IMPORTANT ITEM

Probably the most important item of business before parliament will be a measure to give the navy, army and air force more money for the fiscal year starting next April 1.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton already has indicated he will ask for at least $1,000,000,000 with the bulk earmarked for the air force.

Claxton's bill was expected to call for about a third of all the money the government will spend during the year, and likely will make it necessary for Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott to boost taxes.

Another item at the top of the legislative roster likely to get approval of the despatch of Canadian troops to bolster Western Europe's defenses.

FROM STAGING CAMP

It was expected that up to 10,000 soldiers from the Fort Lewis, Wash., staging camp would be in Europe early in 1951.

A third measure will call for parliament's backing of a probable plodder of several hundred million Canadian dollars to help in the development of south and southeast Asia under the Commonwealth-sponsored Colombo Plan, and for understanding European countries through United Nations agencies.

The House and Senate also will be asked to approve two amendments to the constitution, paving the way for introduction of a national contributory old age pension.

Appointment of an expert to survey technical efficiency of the city telephone system was laid over by city council last night, pending a full commissioners' report on the question.

Proposing that council "appoint" some expert, Ald. Duncan Jones gave a detailed analysis of alleged deficiencies in the system, and steps which might be taken to clear them up.

Commissioner John Hodgson said the city has called in experts to advise on waterworks, transit system, and bridges. The proposal would merely carry the same idea into another field.

Edmonton's system lacks a dial tone, which immediately lets the caller know whether his phone is in order, said Ald. Jones. Dial tone is common to all other western Canada systems. It is not expensive, but it is useful.

NOT UNIFORM

"Perhaps our main trouble is with auxiliary level," he said. Some exchanges in the city come in much lower than others, making for difficulty, not only in local calls but in long distance calls.

Trunk lines are so overloaded there must be a deficiency in their number. Some exchanges ring busy after dialing only the second of five numbers, he said.

Overloading also results in many wrong numbers, even after careful dialing, said Ald. Jones.

"Lookups" or a wasted dialing effort results from dialing too quickly, but it is not always the result of faulty dialing here.

There is some question of obsolete equipment still being used in Edmonton's system, he suggested.

on the TOWN...

By Jack DeLong

Gifts of Kindness

Little deeds of kindness
Little words of love,
Make our earth an Eden,
Like the Heaven above.

I found out a whole lot about the true spirit of Christmas the last two or three days.

People have been wonderfully kind to me and Mrs. DeLong. Many people I do not know by name have called or written to express sympathy.

That makes things so much easier. Everyone has been so kind that I started feeling a bit ashamed of how little I have thought in days gone by of the sorrows of others. I won't be so forgetful in the future.

My good friend Stewart Currie of 11635-71 street sent a letter that cheered me greatly. Here's a sample excerpt that I'm going to try and live up to:

"I trust that you have The Show Must Go On and that you will be able to make your On The Town as enjoyable to Bulletin readers as it has always been."

Mr. Currie's letter is typical.

Little son Barry's death was a great loss. But in the very midst of our grief, my wife and I received many rich gifts of heartwarming sympathy at this Christmas time.

For all of these kindly expressions of sympathy the DeLongs say thank you from out of aching hearts.

Let's not forget our gallant Edmonton boys who are away from home or around embattled Korea these festive days and nights.

From Mrs. Harold Helstrom, Box 216, Estevan, Sask., goes this Christmas week message to her brother Bruce Leggett on HMCS Athabasca:

"Wishing you a happy New Year and trusting you are well. I'm thinking of you always and looking forward to seeing you in the spring. Lots of love.

Dorothy."

And speaking of the armed forces, marital strife may be an aid to recruiting. At any rate, Petty Officer Mundy, navy recruiting officer here, says a man phoned him in the middle of the night recently to say "I've just had a fight with my wife. I want to join the navy."

The PO likes to get recruits but he doesn't like to get 'em in that frame of mind. He told his caller to try and patch things up with the Missus. The feuding hubby must have taken the advice. He hasn't signed up yet.

A warm goodnight for all and especially to husbands who make up with their wives.

Veteran Firefighter To Hang Up Helmet Dec. 31

Captain Tom Steele of No. 6 station, Edmonton fire department, will hang up his helmet officially Dec. 31, after 36 years of firefighting.

The veteran firefighter, for 20 years president of the international Association of Firefighters, Local 209, and president of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council for the past five years, came to this city in 1910.

He arrived here from Cumberland, England, in 1910 by way of brief stops in Vancouver and Calgary and went to work at his trade of bricklayer.

Among the jobs he remembers are the Civic Block and the University of Alberta buildings.

JOINED IN 1915
He joined the fire department in 1915, served as an inspector for 13 years and was made a captain in 1938 after seeing service in a number of stations and settling finally at No. 6.

The men from No. 6 marked his retirement last week with "a prize party and gift presentation at his home at 944-19 street. Captain Steele, who remembers the days of the horse drawn fire

School Group Is Organized

Jasper Place Home and School Association was organized at a recent meeting in Jasper Place school, 148 street and 100 avenue. R. Goss was elected president.

Other officers installed were Mrs. N. G. Taylor, vice-president; D. L. Hower, secretary; Mrs. E. A. McKelvie, treasurer; Mrs. E. A. Nashall, social convener; B. Gillis, membership chairman; B. Farham, progress chairman; and Mrs. A. G. Fries, publicity.

The association will meet the second Monday of each month.

wagons said that he was sorry to leave the department.

He said he would continue with his duties in the TLO and the Edmonton Civic Employees' Federation—his way of rounding out a full life of service to the city.

FIREFIGHTING career extending over the last 36 years in Edmonton will terminate Dec. 31, when Captain Tom Steele, now of fire department No. 6 station hangs up his helmet for last time.

Outdoor Jobs Are Tough in Cold

WINTER WEATHER makes life tough for men like John Hougau, 9425-91 street, Edmonton Transit System trolley line maintenance man, repairing damaged lines on Jasper avenue. So far this year things have not been too bad as city enjoys a "mildest December."

COLD CLEAR WATER had no charms for crew of city workers installing new hydrant at Jasper avenue and 99 street, in near-zero weather yesterday. Water was just off in section of city for 15 minutes. Fire department reported old hydrant would not close after small fire at 8835 Jasper.

'Delinquent' Share Issue Is Shelved By Association

The controversial question of "delinquent" shares in the Edmonton Exhibition Association was shelved for another year at the annual shareholders' meeting yesterday.

Argument centred around disposition of some 40 of 200 shares, whose holders have died or moved away from Edmonton. The shares bear no dividends, have only a nominal $5 value and their holders have no direct control over the Exhibition Association directors. But with the growth of the Edmonton Exhibition Association in recent years, they have assumed prestige value.

LAST MONTH

Wednesday A. Fraser Duncan, K.C. Association counsel, made the latest move aimed at forcing transfer of the "delinquent" shares to persons who can take a more active interest in the Association.

An amendment to the constitution drawn up by himself with solicitor Thomas Garfield and Alderman Athabasca Block would have required shares to be returned to the Exhibition Association after registered shareholders had been absent from annual meetings for two consecutive years.

The Exhibition's Board of Directors would then allocate the shares to other persons.

Other shareholders urged a five-year shareholders' time-limit and suggested rights to the amendment which would give shareholders power to return shares confiscated because of absenteeism. All amendments were tabled and a committee was set up to study them and report to next year's annual meeting.

OTHER BUSINESS

In its other main items of business the shareholders' meeting approved the annual report and the annual financial statement and elected six of the twelve directors which represent them on the board of directors. The city appoints the other 18 of the 24-board members.

Five of six directors retiring from office after two-year terms were re-elected: A. W. Hordford, Gordon A. McDonald, H. W. J. Maddison (1949-50 director president), Lawrence M. Rye and Lee S. Williams. Director Fred Kemp was defeated and E. L. Clarke, Sr. elected in his stead.

GOOD YEAR

President Maddison, in his annual report, reviewed the progress of "our most successful year" and announced plans for a greater effort in 1961.

Agriculture and Horticulture prizes will be increased next year, the international section of hortography will be expanded to "the largest on the continent," and the "junior farmer" competitions will be organized on a new and larger basis.

The light horse show was the big disappointment of 1960, showing a deficit of $3,509.40.

"Apparently we haven't sufficient horse-lovers any more and this part of our activity will have to be re-considered," commented Manager Jim Paul in his financial report.

REGINA — (UPI) — Saskatchewan was named last year to nearly 50,000 Canadian and United States visitors. It was a record total for the province's tourist industry.

CHEATING ON TRANSIT SYSTEM IS OUTLAWED

It's legal now. Nobody can enter any transit system train or bus except by the door provided for that purpose.

City council last night passed a bylaw which says just that.

It did so after complaints from ETS officials that they didn't have power to prosecute people trying to gain entry through the rear exit doors on buses.

Arson Charges Dropped In Rooming House Fire

Origin of a rooming-house fire which caused thousands of dollars damage and left 30 persons homeless last Dec. 6 continues a mystery today after withdrawal of charges of arson against Adolph Neel yesterday.

He was arrested by police Dec. 10 and charged with setting fire to Armo Rooms, 961-1004 avenue, the afternoon of Dec. 6.

HEAVY DAMAGE
The fire gutted two basement rooms, four first floor rooms and caused heavy smoke and water damage to rooms below firemen extinguished flames after a three-hour battle. No one was injured in the fire, insurance of $20,000 was charged.

Prosecutor Guy Beaudry said the charge was withdrawn against Neel due to lack of "sufficient evidence."

Under a proposed five-year agreement, subject to review and modification at five-year intervals, Jasper Place would restrict its own system to sanitary sewage (not allowing any roof or street drainage water to enter), would pay costs of connecting with the city system, and pay an annual rent of $12 per house and a sliding scale of fees for other buildings.

Mayor J. M. Stone of Jasper Place said last night the proposed plan "looked agreeable," but that the town's action on them won't be known until the council meeting Tuesday.

Industrial Board Will Again Be Made Operative

City council last night asked city commissioners to "try to get the industrial development board working."

Aldermen instructed commissioners "to make an appropriate reply" to the Chamber of Commerce letter offering to nominate representatives to the board for 1961, on condition there is assurance the board will function.

Businessmen Name Prexy

Ted Van Dyke was elected new president of the Edmonton branch, Industrial Business Men's Association, at the annual meeting of the group last night at the Macdonald hotel.

Other officers elected were Archie McNeil, vice-president; Stanley Pearson, treasurer; and Ed Swartz, secretary.

The Association sponsors the Youth for Christ movement and the showing of religious films in rural areas.

Instating the new officers, promoter E. C. Manning, honorary president, urged them to carry into effect the high standards they demonstrate in the business world.

Debate On Leagues Postponed

Edmonton aldermen last night postponed full-day debate on a proposed new policy for community league groups.

They gave bylaws committee the job of arranging to hear everyone interested in the policy change suggested by city commissioners, under which leagues would be given only land actually needed for buildings, links, etc.

While the Federation of Community Leagues is getting along satisfactorily with the present school grounds, the board may change and Ald. Innes said that would raise doubts as to future accord.

It was agreed that Federation spokesmen, interested leagues, and school board and city officials be invited to take part in the debate at bylaws committee's meeting next Thursday.

QUESTIONED
Ald. Duncan Innes questioned "whether city commissioners understand what a community league actually is, how it is set up, and what it does."

While the Federation of Community Leagues is getting along satisfactorily with the present school grounds, the board may change and Ald. Innes said that would raise doubts as to future accord.

It was agreed that Federation spokesmen, interested leagues, and school board and city officials be invited to take part in the debate at bylaws committee's meeting next Thursday.

Bylaws committee was given the choice of moving out eastward and counter-argument on the proposal to close present out-of-area lane behind Hudson's Bay Co. store.

Mayor and let the company open a new line 130 feet north at its own expense.

Approval was given City Engineer J. D. A. Macdonald's 11th annual record program for $1,811,411 worth of paving.

March 12 was set as 50th birthday celebrations on Town Planner.

Basic Wage Boost Asked By Firemen

Say Rate Too Low To Support Family

Edmonton fire fighters say their basic wage rate is not high enough to support a family.

Tiger current wage dispute with city commissioners was aired brief by before city council last night, but council decided to steer clear of becoming involved until commissioners present a complete report on where negotiations stand.

Tom Steele, president of fire fighters' local 206, told aldermen the $1429 take-home pay every two weeks for recruits is not enough to support a family. The union is seeking a $30 per month boost.

Quarried by aldermen, he said gross pay per month is $1740.

EXAMPLE
"I've heard of a hotel here where girls get $178 a month for running the elevators," said Ald. Duncan Innes.

Commissioner John Hodgson testified that fire fighters are supplied uniforms and ETS passes, and draw $222.23 per month after three years and one day of service.

"We have had two months of talks with the union, and offered them as much as we can," he said.

"This is merely a trial fight for all the city unions," he added.

Commissioner I. B. Menzies told the fire fighters have been offered "one or two concessions."

The union had refused to accept the award of an arbitration board, said the city later advised the fire fighters they would be paid the board award of an increase.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

City Taxi-Cab Owners Refused Greater Power

Without a vote of disapproval, city council last night endorsed its bylaws committee's recommendation that taxicab owners be refused their demands for more taxi cab board power and for restrictions on location of new cabs.

Operators wanted the board to have power to "instruct" commissioners and the licence inspector, subject to council's approval.

Council approved the principle of allowing a local group to build a $400,000 underground car parking garage immediately east of the Macdonald Hotel extension on Jasper Avenue.

Commissioners are to report back on details which have to be worked out with CNR officials.

Aldermen also endorsed finance committee's recommendation that Waterfalls flats be ultimate site for the city zoo. Parks Superintendent A. C. Patterson is to report on a two-year program of moving present animals to Borden Park to the new location.

Mr. Butler said the evening's (youth) presentation will be "Hansa High," starring Abbott and Costello. Favours and noisemakers will be distributed.

Theatre doors will open at 11:30 p.m. Sunday, the show starting at 12:01 a.m. Blanket invitation to "make up a party" and "bring the whole family" is extended. Free parking facilities are provided at the New Avenue Theatre.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Sugarless Sweetner Fine Figure-Saver

By Bea Thrifty

Today the very phrase "oh, you're just pleasantly plump" is enough to put me in high dudgeon.

And I know it's all mixed up in something called "guilt complex." Seems of Bea attacked the Yuletide goodies with such vigor that her conservative navy blue Mother Hubbard will top the list of New Year's Eve wardrobe possibilities.

But I'm smug . . . I know I'm not alone in this out-cast state.

There are others who have slumped as sadly as I in the tempting world of turkey trimmings.

And all hope is not gone. "Sweetness without sugar" is a slogan whopped-up by discoveries of a non-caloric sweetener available in tablet and solution.

This alone is nothing new. We've had saccharin around for ages in ages . . . but the new discovery will retain its flavor even in the heat of boiling and the higher after-taste just isn't.

Saccharin was adequate when used as . . . but taking or boiling-hot beverages were dead losses.

Now who ever heard of a diet with apple pie and sponge cake listed on the dessert side?

Well, when made with new sugar substitute, they're just as good and not half as fattening.

Next-door neighbor came up with a bagful of fresh new season dessert ideas and presented me with grapefruit Alaska if you please.

She said it's as easy as A-B-C . . . and involves grapefruit (naturally), vanilla ice cream and meringue and a very little time.

She simply separates the segments in a half grapefruit as you would for ordinary serving, then puts a scoop of ice cream in centre; topping works with generous glob of meringue.

Now she pops this creation in the oven broiler for about three minutes until the meringue is golden brown. If you're partial to grapefruit . . . and partial to the ice cream-grapefruit combo . . . you'll enjoy it. Otherwise I'd suggest having a dish of preserved plums for dessert.

If you've industriously created a luscious-shaded knitted suit for your very own . . . just remember this: saved the money to buy one.

Knitted or crocheted dresses should NEVER be hung on coat hangers, nor should they be folded, instead, tuck them on some round object like a mailing tube and tuck them in a drawer.

Cared for this way, they'll hold shape perfectly.

Well guess! If you're able to force yourself into the shops these post-Yuletide days . . . be sure to watch for up-coming clearance sale bargains. With stocks as heavy as they are during fall and winter . . . some good buys should be available before and around January 15.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Parental Patience Must Have Endurance Also

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Sally is a runaway child. She is just 18 months old and five minutes after she is let outdoors, she is out of sight.

Her mother tries to be patient, but her fright gets the better of her. Suppose she should run over? So she runs after Sally and belabors her painfully, in order to impress her with the seriousness of staying at home.

She would get as far as if each time Sally left the yard the following day, her mother would bring her up immediately and brough her in the house. "Remember," she should say, "You can't play outdoors unless you stay in the yard. You can play right here where Mother can see you and take care of you. But if you leave, I'll come just as I am doing now and bring you in."

That takes patience and time. But it works.

Timeliness, truthfulness, honesty, attention for individual differences, these are all virtues toward which the parent will guide the child. Then through the years she will see the results of her efforts.

Housewives who attempt to can with imperfect jars and lids are pea-water, pound-cakes, Crisco, chips, dents and spread edges often prevent an air-tight seal and spoilage results.

THIS IS an exercise which will help improve more than one figure fault.

WHY GROW OLD

Some Exercises Correct Several Figure Faults

By Josephine Lowman

All exercises are helpful but there are special ones which do wonders for your figure.

During the busy, busy per leg and inner leg line are some of the figure faults which depend on women out of the years and detract from the beauty of the silhouette.

Today's exercise is good for thighs, inner leg line and fat under the arms and across the shoulders.

Lie on the floor on your back. Your legs are straight and your arms rest on the floor overhead. Keep your knees stiff and your elbows straight as you drag your legs apart and swing your arms down toward your sides, touching your fingertips to your thighs.

Drag legs together again and swing arms sideward overhead (close to the floor), clapping the hands together as the legs come together. Continue, lie on your back, lift them from the floor so that you feel the pull when you clap your hands. Drag your legs down.

Now lie on your side, knees bent, with the same motion, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your request for leaflet No. 3, Address: Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

If you would like to have my "Combination Exercises" which will two on more figure faults with the same motion, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your request for leaflet No. 3, Address: Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Feminine Sex Restless And Dissatisfied by Nature

DEAR MISS DIX: My first marriage ended disastrously for the reason that although I was good and kind to my wife and gave her every luxury, she was unsatisfied to me.

Recently I have met a young widow whom I am thinking of marrying, but she has confessed to me that during her previous marriage and since her husband's death, she has had numerous affairs with other men. My problem is this: Is it likely that a woman who is not untrue to her first husband, and more or less promiscuous since, will be likely to be faithful to me?

Answer: Not a chance. The philosopher woman is even more incurable than the philandering man, for, after all, the feminine sex is restless and dissatisfied by nature, and once a woman starts out on a life of adventure, nothing stops her but age or the grave.

It is only superficial vanity that makes a man and woman think that they have some superlative characteristics, for the philosopher, for what he or she seeks is novelty, change and new sensations, and one person can supply these demands.

Next time the weatherman keeps you in over the weekend you may not make some peanut butter fudge.

Mix three cups of granulated sugar with half cup water. Boil to about 20 degrees. Then add two tablespoons of peanut butter and boil until the mixture forms a soft ball when dropped into a glass of water.

Pour the syrup into a shallow glass or enamel pan. Allow to cool slightly, then add a heavy spoon until creamy. Add half cup of finely cut nuts and stir until the mixture is smooth.

Then knead until it becomes soft and press into a buttered pan. Cover with waxed paper and set aside until firm. Then cut into squares.

If you've oversalted vegetables while cooking, quickly add a peeled raw potato. Excess salt is soaked up within a few minutes' boiling time.

Greeting Cards Easily Converted For Thrifty Use

Don't be in too much of a hurry to banish those pretty Christmas cards to the garbage can. Maybe they can be put to good use.

The children's wing of the local hospital might be glad to receive some of them. A sick child often will spend many of the long hours in bed happy just to look at the pictures or to paste them into a scrap-book.

They also look most interesting on wastepaper baskets—the cut side, not the inside. A plain basket can be turned into an artistic corner for den or living-room with these bright cards.

Choose the better ones—the Canadian prints, snow scenes, which have been so popular this year. Cut out the pictures and glue on the basket until there is a solid "mosaic" design. Cover the whole with a coat of shellac.

Finally, the cards still have definite "party" value. They can be fashioned into attractive place cards and can also be used as table decorations.

Scatter them over the table beneath a transparent plastic tablecloth. Your guests will wonder why they didn't think of the idea themselves.

Wholesome Food, Lots of Rest Best Post-Holiday Cure

OTTAWA (CP) — If you've been waking up these mornings suffering from the high living of the holiday season, don't be alarmed. Find wholesome food and plenty of rest is the cure for post-holiday dyspepsia.

If you're also getting up with empty pockets, that's another problem. About the only answer is a New Year's resolution to do better — to begin setting aside a few cheques in advance for next year.

Before the last was several of the banks used to maintain "Christmas Club" accounts. Men, women and children could contribute 50 cents, $1 or $5 weekly, and at the end of the year found themselves with a nice little stock of money for Christmas spending.

If there's a bank in your town which still gives the public a "Christmas Club" — now's the time to join. If there isn't — open a savings account. Even a "sugar" tin in the kitchen cupboard is handy for stray nickels and dimes.

The catch is not to let the fund fade through lack of nourishment. And come a lean week it sometimes takes plenty of will power to keep from dipping into the Christmas savings.

Daily Double Saves Trouble

"Put a large salt shaker with salt and pepper mixed about 5 parts salt to 1 part pepper. Keep shaker handy on the range. You can season many foods with a couple of shakes.

Princess Margaret Takes Limelight At Fashion Show

LONDON (CP) — At a London display, "Two Hundred Years of Fashion," showing 150 dress designs of other eras, the coat and dress that caused most comment were worn by a member of the audience—Princess Margaret.

The Princess wore a new color, the audience found it difficult to describe.

"Burgundy-red," said a textile designer, "live-sausage pink," said a fashion writer.

"Copper red," was the verdict of a well-known fashion designer, who was given the last word, "And thank goodness for the change from that eternal royal blue."

Princess Margaret was attending a display given by Mrs. Dore Langley Moore, London's authority on period costume.

Well-known actresses of stage and screen displayed the fashions of two centuries, from gorgeous crinolines and audacious bustles to the earliest corsets and cycling outfits and the uniform of the Edwardian suffragettes.

Donalda Mumps Outbreak Checked

Voluntary Isolation Holds Near Epidemic to 50 Cases

DONALDA, Dec. 28.—Near-epidemic of mumps which has swept through Donalda and district has been controlled by voluntary isolation of the more than 50 cases.

The town, which is located about 80 miles southeast of Edmonton, has no doctor of its own, and cases have been dealt with by families and parents.

Residents now feel the worst of the outbreak has passed, with no complications or serious injury reported.

There were a number of mild cases earlier in December, but the outbreak did not become widespread until a few days before the holiday weekend.

When Christmas rolled around, more than 30 cases had been isolated in their own homes, both in the town and surrounding districts. But because of the mildness of the disease, schools and Christmas parties were held on schedule.

Only one affected was the Donalda school Christmas concert.

He is held here as a presumed insurance.

QUEBEC MAN APPEALING CONVICTION

QUEBEC, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Generaux Rust, 54-year-old Quebec watchmaker, today appealed his murder conviction and death sentence in the Sept. 6, 1949, time-bomb explosion of an airplane.

The appeal will be heard at the next term of Quebec Court of Appeals which starts in February. It is based on points of law concerning the judge's charge to the jury and questions the legality of the evidence admitted at Rust's trial.

Rust was convicted in criminal assize court Dec. 13 as an accomplice of J. Albert Gray, Quebec jewelry salesman, one Donalds citizen.

which was held in the afternoon instead of the evening as planned. Both adults and children were to be stricken with the mumps, although no new cases have been reported in two days.

"It seems that everybody here has had the mumps now," commented one Donalds citizen.

Windshield-Wipe Starts 12-Car Highway Snarl

A chain-reaction accident which started with a frozen windshield left five vehicles in ditches along the Calgary highway, threatened the safety of a busload of passengers and tied up traffic for two hours near Leduc yesterday.

For a distance of half a mile just north of the town, cars, trucks and buses piled into each other as drivers found their vehicles impossible to control on the ice-slicked highway.

Miraculously, no one was injured.

It started when an unidentified motorist stopped his northbound car 1½ miles north of Leduc to clear his frosted windshield.

A 24-ton truck behind him also stopped, then was hit into the ditch by another half-ton which couldn't hit in time.

Three cars following tried to stop, and two of them also ended in the ditch.

SOUTHBOUND, TOO

Meanwhile, traffic started to pile up in the other direction as a southbound bus stopped at the accident scene. It was hit from behind by a second bus which spun it halfway around, causing it to snap off culvert posts and veer towards the ditch on the other side.

The bus stopped just short of the ditch but straddled the road. Traffic piled up behind it and another private car hurtled into the ditch.

ROD worked for two hours to untangle the 12-car snarl, while Lewis and Scott's garage towed the vehicles.

Several times, traffic was stopped for two hours to clear the highway.

Christianity's Basic Beliefs Are Studied

A spirited defense of the basic beliefs of Christianity was given at the opening of the Student Christian Movement Conference Wednesday on the campus of University of Alberta.

Rev. Thomas' address, entitled, "The Christian Answer to Scientific Humanism," closed the first day of conference on "What is the World? Is God Going?", currently being held in Edmonton.

The speaker added that our scientific materialism is not necessarily more scientific, since no one has yet found a "scientific truth" which compels one to abandon the basic truths of Christianity, and such thinking always involves some fallacy.

The Student Christian Movement conference officially opened Wednesday afternoon with a welcoming message by Prof. Andrew Stewart, president of the university.

FIRST TALK GIVEN

Rev. R. C. Chalmers, professor of Christian theology at the University of Alberta, gave the first of a series of talks on the conference theme.

His topic, "The Doctrine of Creation," dealt with ten basic Christian beliefs stemming from the Christian belief of the world's creation. Rev. Chalmers was introduced by Val Anderson, president of the Saskatchewan branch of the SCM and chairman of the conference.

After the opening address, five seminar groups on the subjects of "What Can the Canadian Do for Peace?", "Ministries," "The Universal Church," "Vocations," and "Worship," were formed. These groups will be led by Dr. H. B. Collier, head of the department of biochemistry at the university; John H. Brown, secretary of the Indian Association; Dr. E. J. Thompson, principal of St. Stephen's College; Miss Helen Burton, national mission secretary of the SCM; and Rev. Ted Scott, secretary of the SCM in Winnipeg.

Mercoal Wins In First Aid

Young, general manager of the Cadomin Coal Co., and J. Douglas, secretary. Judges were Dr. W. L. Long, A. G. Litch, and J. McAndrew. L. C. G. Chevaland, mine manager at Mercoal, was host during the day of competition.

The Mercoal entry under Capt. McQueen took first place with 146 points. Mercoal entry with 136 points was in second place. The third place was taken by the Cadomin team directed by J. Herman had 135 points for third place. The fourth place, directed by O. Gandia, was in fourth place with 140 points, and the Laurier team, directed by R. Mitchell, was in fifth place with 139 points.

Newly-Formed Group Throws Kiddies' Party

The newly-formed Division Number 20, of the St. John Ambulance Corps, recently entertained a group of underprivileged children at a Christmas party in the St. John house.

The organization, which is composed of girls aged 16 to 20 years who have obtained their first first aid certificate, provided an evening of entertainment, games, refreshments and all the trimmings of a good Christmas party.

Each member of the organization brought one child and contributed money toward the expense of the party.

Break-Ins Prove Not So Gainful

Thieves had a lot of work for their minor gains last night in break-in at Miller Motors Ltd., 2609-104 street, and at another Service Station, 770-104 street.

Total loot was $10 in silver, seven cartons of cigarettes and two tin cans from the service station.

Unskilled thugs at Miller Motors, prowled the entire premises, overturned a desk and punched the handle and spindle off the axle without obtaining any valuables.

Canadians Seek Higher Gold Prices

Mines Say Cost-Aid Help Only Temporary Expedient

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Canada's multi-million-dollar gold-mining industry, imperiled by climbing production costs, today urged the government to join with South Africa in seeking a higher world price for gold.

A delegation of the gold-mining industry, meeting with Prime Minister St. Laurent and a cabinet committee, urged also that the government broaden its program of financial aid to meet a steadily worsening industry crisis.

But the government's cost-aid program, started in 1947 and to be continued on a reduced scale in 1951, could be a temporary expedient only, the delegation said.

"For the gold mines the crux of the problem is the price of gold," the price of gold is fixed by the international monetary fund at $35 a fine ounce in United States funds. The price has remained at that rate since 1932.

TWO BRIEFS were presented by the delegation, one representing the views of the Ontario Mining Association, the other the views of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, the Mining Association of British Columbia, the Manitoba Metal Mining Association and the Western Quebec Mining Association.

In general, both briefs expressed the view that the $35-per-ounce price for gold in U.S. funds was not sufficient to meet climbing production costs.

The Ontario Mining Association pointed out that the annual profits of gold mining companies in Canada had declined from $140,000 in 1938 to $80,000 in 1947—a drop of $60,000.

"The adverse situation facing gold mines today," the association said in its brief, "is entirely the result of governmental decisions that the gold-mining industry in Canada and certain other countries which entered into the Bretton Woods agreement must sell its gold to government at a fixed price."

The fixed price did not foresee the rising tide of production costs, the brief continued.

Friendly Eskimos Hit By Iron Curtain Ban. By Stan Burke. The 'Iron Curtain' has even closed down on the Eskimos, the world's friendliest people.

So says Dr. Axel Laurent-Cristensen, a Danish scientist who has lived for years on the Eskimos, who visited Alaska last summer.

In the Arctic island, the Eskimo-Indian Diomed Island, he said, is only about three miles from American territory.

"The Eskimos used to travel freely back and forth but for three or four years they haven't so much as seen the face of an Eskimo from Russian territory," he said.

"They are unexcused anywhere in the world," he stated emphatically.

The ancient Vikings, not modern white men, may be responsible for introducing tuberculosis to the Eskimos, he said.

"Study the Vikings and you will find they have suffered from the disease for at least a thousand years," he said. "The Vikings might have brought the disease to Greenland and the Eskimos may have had it before that."

Health facilities are good, but the Eskimos lack modern medicine of Greenland and Alaska in education, he said.

Greenland Eskimos have a literacy rate which is possibly the highest in the world, he said. The rate of 2,500 Eskimos in Greenland, said Laurent-Cristensen, is not as high as that of the Eskimos in Alaska, he said.

In Alaska, almost all Eskimos speak English and have had some school education, he said.

NO WAY OF IMPROVING. Canadian Eskimos are not taught to read and write in their own language and, since many do not speak English, they have no way of improving themselves.

In Greenland, many classics and instructional books are available in Eskimo.

POLICE GIVE HELPING HAND TO SOLDIER

City police premier car constables exercised the spirit of Yuletide goodwill last night after they brought a soldier to the police station following a call to a local dance hall.

Constable R. A. Hooper reported the prowler car was called to the scene to "handle" the soldier.

Western Airlines Opens Edmonton Office On Jan. 2

Western Airlines, American subsidiary operating line, will add another achievement to their long record on Jan. 2 when they hold the official opening of their Edmonton office.

The Edmonton office, established in May, 1950, is the only branch operating in Alberta.

The establishment of the Los Angeles-Edmonton route brought the total route mileage to over 5,000 miles, to make it one of the largest inland airlines.

The company made the first scheduled commercial flight in United States from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, on April 17, 1950.
